AS a token of esteem and appreciation this Year Book is sincerely dedicated to our President, Joseph K. Nicholes. He has done much to make our school what it has been and what it will be. As his efforts are a part of the institution, so are his cheerful attitude, his charitable heart, and his kindly nature a part of our lives.

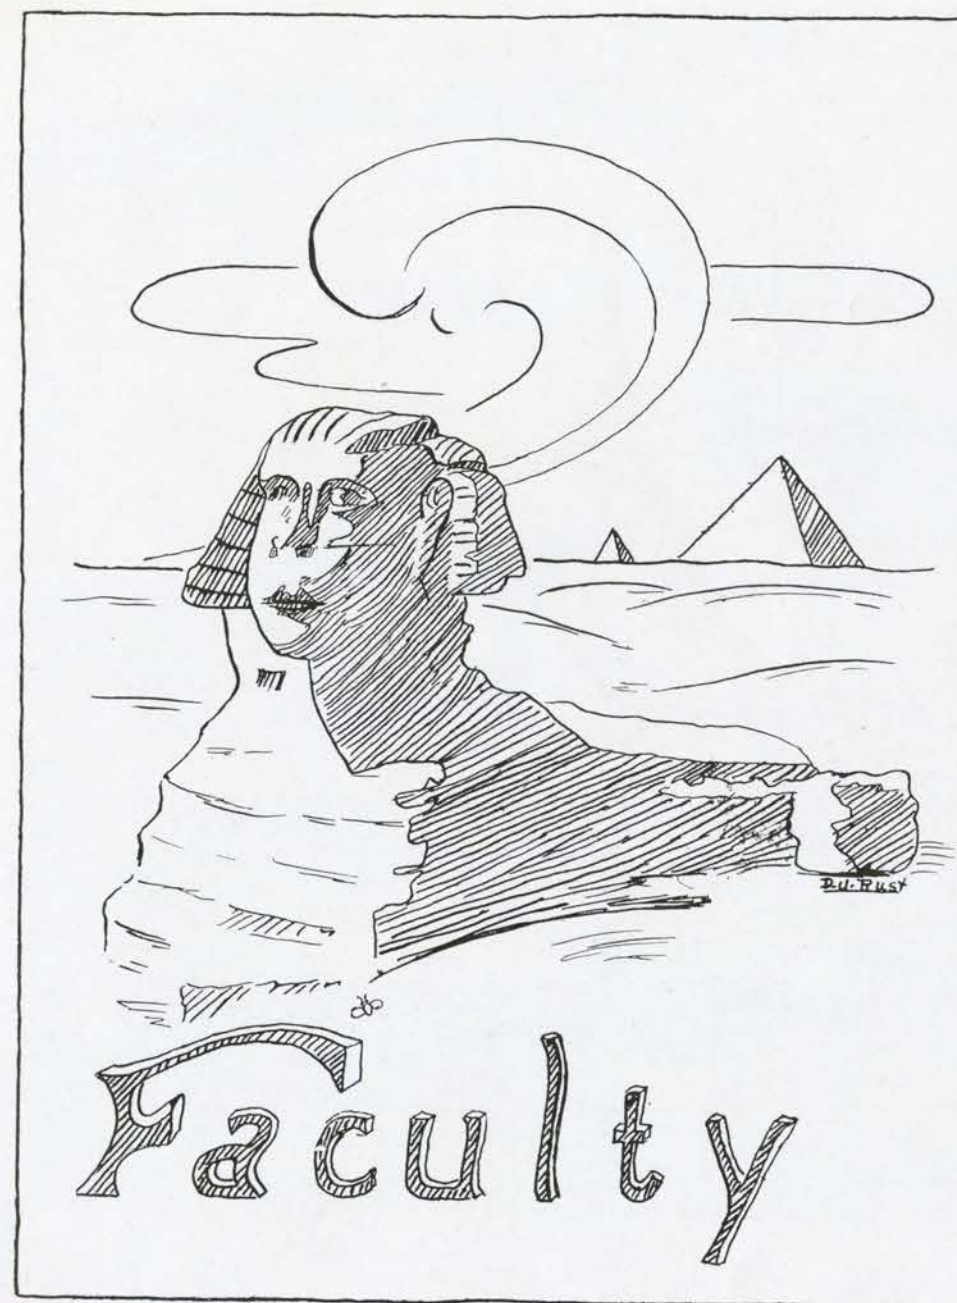

*Minds of Students sway at his will,
Hearts of Students love him still
Many there are who feel the thrill,
And endeavor his instructions to fulfill.*

*An influential strength of judgment and achievement,
A radio his heart and brain,
From which waves, stable and resolute,
Ever reflect his name.
A Friend and Teacher's noble character,
Our President.*

 GEORGE F. WHITEHEAD
 DAVID HIRSCHI
 DAVID H. CANNON
 EDWARD R. FREI
 JOHN T. WOODBURY, SR.
 SAMUEL ISOM

JOSEPH KELLY NICHOLS
President.

How long we live not years but actions tell;
That man lives twice, who lives the first life well.

JOHN TAYLOR WOODBURY, JR.
Head of the Department of Education and Psychology.

He is a source of inspiration to all who know him. He lives that the future generations might live more abundantly.

EDGAR M. JENSON
Head of the Department of Normal Training.

The improvement of the understanding is why aren't they all contended like me? for two ends: First, for our own universe of knowledge; secondly, to enable us to deliver and make out that knowledge to others.

ARTHUR KNIGHT HAFEN
Head of the Department of Modern Languages.

The man who seeks one thing in life, and but one, may hope to achieve it before life be done.

VASCO MYRON TANNER
Head of the Department of Biology and Agriculture.

Science, when well digested, is nothing but good sense and reason.

KARL NELSON SNOW
Head of the Department of Business Education.

Our business is, not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do that which lies at hand.

HYRUM LORENZO REID
Head of the Department of History and Political Science.

Everywhere in life, the true question is not what we gain but what we do.

JOSEPH WILLIAM McALLISTER
Director of Normal Music, Choir and Voice Culture.

He has sounded a chord of musical culture that vibrates through all Dixie. His untiring efforts have made possible, concerts, recitals, and grand operas, a realization of a higher sphere of art.

MAY WARD HUNT
Head of the Department of Domestic Science.

A noble woman who serves faithfully her God and all humanity. She serves best those who will be served, for at heart she carries the welfare of the world.

EARL JAMES BLEAK
Director of Band and Orchestra.

Thinks music is the universal language of mankind and ably speaks that language.

ARTHUR ALFRED PAXMAN, JR.
Instructor in the Departments of Biology and Agriculture.
"Development" is his motto.
The Dixie boys' athletics, agricultural knowledge, and Biology appreciation have grown through his influence.

PHILLIP H. BARKDULL
Head of the Departments of Fine Art and Woodwork.
His paintings are a mirror reflection of a soul tintured with many virtues.

MAE M. McALLISTER
Head of the Departments of Domestic Art and Dramatic Art.
Happy am I; from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?

ELLIS JOHNSON PICKETT
Instructor in the Departments of History and English.
There is nothing in the world so irresistibly contagious as laughter and good humor.

NINA BUNKER
Registrar and Instructor in Office Training.
Ambition is her motto,
Preparedness her aim;
Her "righteous indignation"
Puts slackers all to shame.

LUCY A. PHILLIPS
Head of the Department of English Language and Literature.
The truly great consider first, how they may benefit their fellowmen. It is more easy to be wise for others than for ourselves.

EVELYN THURSTON
Director of Piano Music.
She says it through music:
To the student "stick-to-it."
To the school "Each piece has a message."
To Dixie "Yours may be the master."

CHESTER ARTHUR WHITEHEAD
Head of the Department of Physical Education.
Coach Whitehead, better known to the boys as "Check," has helped our athletes put Dixie on the map? (at the top).

MILLIE PENDLETON
Instructor in English.
Worth, courage, honor these indeed,
That what a woman should be, she is that.

IONA B. STUCKI
Librarian.
Of no worldly good can the enjoyment be perfect, unless it is shared by a friend.

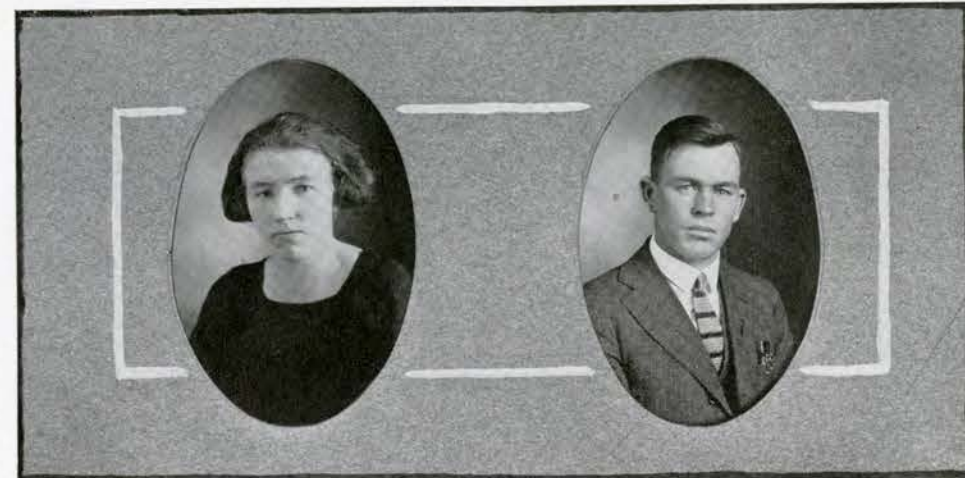

TILLIE WINSOR
Critic Teacher.

ELDA DORIUS
Critic Teacher.

LELAND HAFEN
Critic Teacher.

VIVIAN FREI
Critic Teacher.

EDNA J. BRINK
Critic Teacher.

EMILY HARMON
Critic Teacher.

WALTER F. SMITH
Assistant in Biological Science.

Let Us Smile While We May

The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while,
That cost the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile.
The smile that bubbles from the heart, that loves its fellow men,
Will drive away the clouds of gloom and coax the sun again.
It's full of worth and goodness, too, with manly interest blent,
It's worth a million dollars and doesn't cost a cent.

There is no room for sadness when you see a cheery smile,
It always has the same good look, it's never out of style,
It nerves us on to try again, when failure makes us blue,
The dimples of encouragement are good for me and you.
It pays a higher interest, for it is merely lent,
It's worth a million dollars and it doesn't cost a cent.

A smile comes very easy; you can wrinkle up with cheer
A hundred times, before you can squeeze out a soggy tear.
It ripples out moreover to the heart strings that will tug
And always leaves an echo very like a hug
So, smile away, folks know by what a smile is meant,
It's worth a million dollars and doesn't cost a cent.

—M. B.

COLLEGE

Sand! It's the sand that does it!
 Rah, rhu! White, blue!
 Sand! It's the sand that does it!
 Rah, rhu! White, blue!

Sand, that element of Dixie land
 Alike in nature and the natures bold—
 Natures that conquered, meeting sand with "sand."
 Dixie's brave stalwarts, that could win and hold.

Sand! It puts on tools the keenest cutting edge,
 And makes them sharp and bright, and fit for use—
 No tool serves well without it's kept in trim,
 Deterioration follows mere abuse.

Sand! The sharpening of our intellects,
 And whetting up for use our mental tools,
 Neglecting naught that helps make life worth-while—
 Deserving mission of our Dixie schools!

So, well-equipped with grit, and vim, and nerve
 And knowing how much richer minds may be,
 New-edged for service, we with zest enlist
 Dixie's cause to champion faithfully!

MAE LINDER

Service is her motto. One who is sensible and good hearted and has many friends. We all like Mae.

MYRON STOUT

Not oft near home, does genius brightly shine
But here is one whose aim is "climb."

BERT SULLIVAN

A good sport with an ever-ready grin.
Is universally popular.

RUTH WINSOR

Enjoys life and helps others to do likewise.

CLARA FARNSWORTH

Orator and writer of short stories.
"My mind to me a kingdom is."

LAFELL IVERSON

A jolly good sport with plenty of wit and a Ford.

LETHA TAYLOR

Champion in debating.
"A master mind and a winning way,
The Gods to her bequeathed."

VERNON CHURCH

Commissioner of Athletics. Is a married man but you never could tell it.

ORVEL BASTIAN

Divides his energies equally between chemistry and fun. Generally good-natured.

ERMA BOWLER

A living example of the adage,
"Still water runs deep."

VERNA HARMON

Vera's twin in every respect.

LEONARD SPROUL

Aspires to Caruso's place. Good luck, Leonard.

WILLIAM SNOW

"Man is a novel animal splendid in ashes and pompous in the grave—"
but a man's a man for a' that

ANNA MILES

God sent His singers upon earth
With songs of gladness and mirth
That they might touch the hearts of men
And bring them back to heaven again.

PHILO FARNSWORTH

Hard to understand but has something deep in him that is worth knowing.

HELEN GARDNER

"Zealous yet modest; Innocent, though free; Patient of toil; Serene amidst alarm; Inflexible in faith; Invincible in arms."

ERVIN WEBB

All one's life is music if one touches the notes rightly and in tune.

VERA HARMON

A more pleasant and conscientious person could not be found.

WALTER SMITH

Loves responsibility. Is president of the college class and father of a family.

BLANCHE MATHIS

If ever she knew an evil thought,
She spoke no evil word.

RACHEL GRAFF

The girl with the wicked eyes. Has a monopoly on popularity.

PAUL WORTHEN

A worthy chap. Knows what's right and does it.

CHARLOTTE BLACKBURN

Our "lady missionary." Has the knack of making friends.

ORVAL HAFEN

"Solid pudding without praise." Titles of honor add not to his worth, who is himself an honor to his titles.

JOHN E. BLAZZARD

Editor and "chief push" of the "DIXIE." Generally found on the right side and strong where found.

TENNESSEE SPENDLOVE

Her personality, like the climate of Tennessee (state), is notably pleasant. Her eyes are like lighted lamps. They have a tendency to attract Millers.

JUANITA DAVIS

"Give me a lever long enough, a prop strong enough, and I can single handed move the world."

VILATE ROUNDY

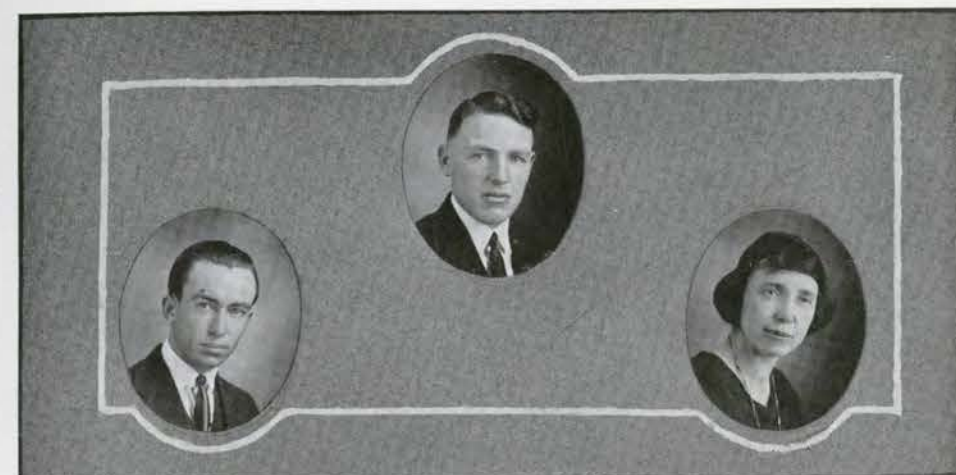

A dreamer of this generation, Whom we trust will make poetry her vocation. She is a literary genius.

GLADYS TAYLOR

A tailor-made (Taylor maid). Sometimes Glad, and always Frank.

MERRIL SANDBERG

Of Swedish descent with Swedish sticktoitiveness.

GOLDEN TANNER

Hails from Arizona. A likable fellow, with an affinity for the fair sex.

KARL SAVAGE

Carries his head high, but not without cause.

MABEL JARVIS

Her heart is a garden, where goodness reigns supreme, and where evil durst not enter in.

Don't grumble too hard at knocks, my lad,
But use 'em along the way.
To make you into the sort of man,
We need in the world today,—

Looking ever a little higher,
Steadily marching along,
With a sturdy sort of a whistle,
Or just a rollicking song,
With the rough winds blow, and the clouds
hang low
And the knocks come thick and fast,
Because he's vowed in the soul of him,
He'd get to the top at last.

Don't grumble too hard at knocks, my lad;
Spend your time in being a man;
For no one is ever a failure,
Who's doing the best he can.
L. D. Stearns.

To make the most of dull hours, to make the best of dull people, to like a poor jest better than none, to wear the threadbare coat like a gentleman, to be outvoted with a smile, to hitch your wagon to the old horse if no star is handy—
"that is a wholesome philosophy."
—Van Dyke.

If Victory's proof of the skill you possess,
Defeat is proof of the grit;
A weakling can smile in his days of success,
At misfortune's first sign he will quit.
But the test of your heart and the test of your pluck
Isn't when everything's sunny and fair,
But how do you stand when the blow is struck
And how do you battle despair?
It's the way you hold out against odds that is great
That proves what your courage is worth;
It's the way that you stand to the bruises of fate
That shows up your stature and girth.
But Victory's nothing but proof of your skill,
Veneered with a glory that's thin,
Unless it is proof of unfaltering will,
And unless you have suffered to win.—C. F.

Lang Syne

When we grow old we all look back with longing o'er the traveled track, to days of auld lang syne; and we inform the younger men that everything was better then, yea, doubly smooth and fine. I'm having better times today than in the dim years far away, when I was always broke; I'm living now in Easy street, but every morning I repeat the old gent's harmless joke. "When I was young," my yarns begin; then all was gold that now is tin, and bricks were precious stones; then orchids grew on all our lawns, and Guinea hens and geese were swans, and trees grew silver bones. When I was young my path was steep, and often I sat down to weep and wish for better times; I slaved away at bitter tasks, and carried kegs of nails and casks, to earn some meager dimes. I worked some 18 hours a day on farms composed of rocks and clay, I wrought with rusty tools; I swung an ax, I packed a hod, and breaking miles of prairie sod, I pushed two sorrel mules. I wouldn't do the old-time chores for all the wealth the miser pours into his bin at night; but when I'd break some hearers' hearts, "When I was young," my story starts, "the world was gay and bright."—Walt Mason.

Cooperation is the lubricant in the wheels of progress. Without the cooperation and support of our advertisers the publication of this Year Book would have been impossible. We sincerely appreciate the support, which has so contributed to the success of this annual.

The Year Book Staff

Before closing the doors of this issue of the "DIXIE," we wish to thank all those who have so kindly helped to make this Year Book what it is.
