DEDICATION

To you, the future scientists, the future homemakers, the musicians, the athletes; to you in pre-medical fields; to you aspirant teachers; and to all of you, the students of Dixie College, this 1963-64 Dixie is dedicated. You all added to our galaxy and laid the foundation for continued progress and growth.

BUILDINGS

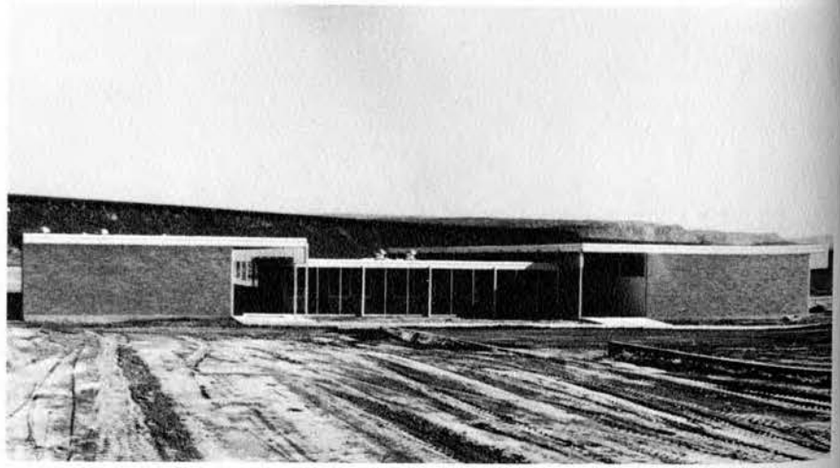

Fine Arts Center

Our classrooms were deafened by the roar of machines and the clank of boards — sounds of advancement. Standing statuesque in the sunshine, our buildings reflected the completion of old hopes and the beginning of fresh and bigger dreams. We, the students, proudly shared in the digging, hauling, and building of our campus.

Science

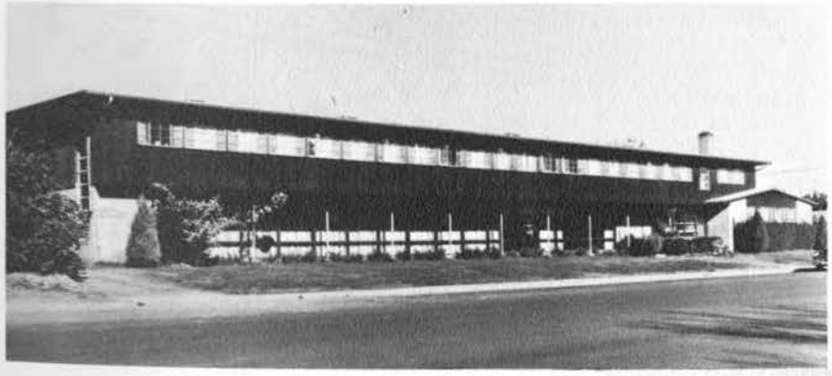

Gymnasium

Cafeteria

As we trod through the red dirt of DIXIE, we visualized ahead to green grass, tall elms, and expanded learning facilities. From bare rooms with only a light switch, to bright, fully-equipped classrooms, our buildings epitomized a spiralling growth.

PRESIDENT

The adoption of this year's yearbook theme is heartwarming. To me it represents the optimism, the confidence, and the forward look which has marked the Associated Students of 1963-64. I think that all the staff at Dixie College has been heartened by this spirit. The obstacles were obvious to all. You showed us how to ignore them, laugh at them, or get on top of them. In so doing, all of us have grown. For all of us, this will be a good year to remember.

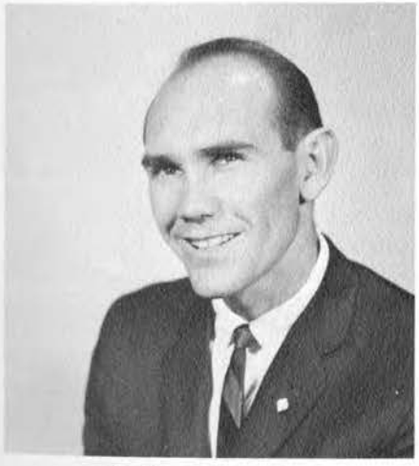

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

"Your Key to Leadership," the theme of the 1963 leadership conference, aroused OUR LEADERS to unlock the doors to student vitality. They struggled hard during the year to make DIXIE a meaningful place to everyone. Their toil produced clever dance decorations, rollicking parties, amusing assemblies, and many Dixie memories we will always treasure.

STUDENTBODY PRESIDENT

A guide and an example, President Derrill Larkin had the students' respect and admiration. Due to his far-sighted leadership of the studentbody and to his willing cooperation, he helped to make this a pleasant and memorable year. A desire for citizenship and sportsmanship among students made OUR PRESIDENT an outstanding leader. His friendliness and sincere appreciation for a task which we diligently completed made us love him for all that he was. Yes, he launched Dixie on its way to progress.

Well endowed with the spirit of leadership and enthusiasm, our EXECUTIVE OFFICERS capably led over 382 of their classmates successfully through 1964. They diligently strove to promote friendship and school spirit among all those who attended. Their contributions were invaluable; they motivated us onward to greater achievement.

EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

STUDENT COUNCIL

APPOINTIVE OFFICERS

A willingness for service to others and an acceptance of responsibility characterized these students. Working for the betterment of the student-body, they devoted hours of time and gave of their talents.

SOCIABILITY COMMITTEE

The SOCIABILITY COMMITTEE showed Dixie students what enjoyment could be. Something each week, such as the Rebel Riot, Christmas games and the Fall Hike kept us happy and filled with our dear Dixie Spirit. They worked hard and diligently to make the social life at Dixie memorable to all of us.

AWS COUNCIL

The ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS of Dixie College were represented well during the past year. Many activities such as the Sadie Hawkins Dance, Girls' Week, and Fathers' and Daughters' Night helped to make this past year a success.

AMS COUNCIL

As each man entered Dixie College, the AMS COUNCIL helped him to become acquainted with the school and its numerous functions. This group represented the men on campus and held many activities to make the school year enjoyable for everyone.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

The call, "There's an activity this weekend," put the PUBLICITY COMMITTEE into action through the year. Planning, drawing, and painting posters, this group of students deemed it their responsibility to inform all students of current events.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE

Under the supervision of Carol Ann Jeffery, this year was a success in presenting the talent of many Dixie College students. Our assemblies were on a high plane and gave much enjoyment to all.

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

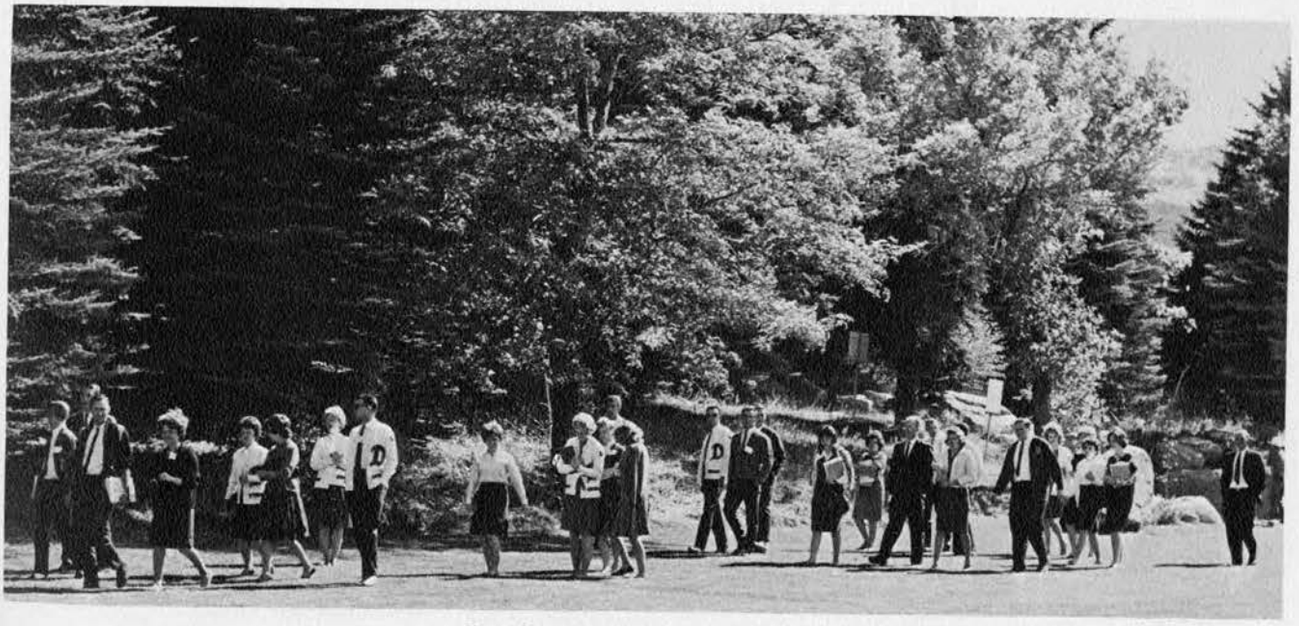

During the first fun-filled weeks at Dixie, the student officers were presented their "Keys to Leadership." The annual LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE was held on the picturesque campus of College of Southern Utah. The conference gave the students holding positions of leadership, throughout the college, a greater understanding of the scope of their duties.

Dynamic personalities in dynamic group sessions

Treading the road to leadership

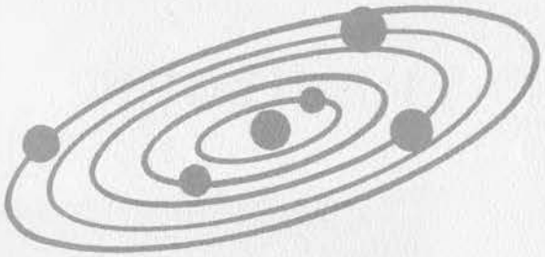

CLASSES

First, they gathered their books, paper, pencils, typewriters, and erasers; then, munching on apples, away they went — to study.

Conscientious DIXIE STUDENTS made progress scholastically: learned new methods, expanded their interests, and broadened their aims by valor, boldness, and praiseworthy exertion; and their end results convinced them all that their efforts were not in vain. Sometimes the going was rough, the teachers were tough; but gee, it was fun attending Dixie!

Well endowed with the spirit of leadership and enthusiasm, Dixie's FRESHMEN CLASS OFFICERS: Joy Lyn Johnson, secretary; Margaret Truman, commissioner of amusements; Merrill Webb, president; Dell Gilbert, commissioner of amusements; Stanley Everett, vice president; proudly led their colleagues through a successful 1963-64 year. Besides their administrative accomplishments, the officers won the hearts of their fellow students with their warm friendly personalities, never-ending patience, and genuine fairness.

Electing competent officers to steer them through their first, big college year, the FRESHMEN brought to Dixie new Rebel spirit which was slowly blended into Dixie traditions and rigorous studies.

This year the SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS radiated their hopes — hopes of learning, hopes of quality in competition, hopes of happy Sophomores — in enthusiasm to help their class profit from college life. Energetic Sophomore class officers were: John Prince, president; Shirley Ann Wright, vice president; Donna Graff, secretary; Atkin Pace and Sue Ann Lytle, commissioners of amusements.

Study? Study. Study!

Congratulations! For two challenging years you aimed for your zenith. Through headaches and happiness, kind gestures and apple-polishing, you finally arrived at the threshold. Hats off to you GRADUATES, you merit our approbation.

ORGANIZATIONS

Through various organizations students with homogeneous interests found excitement in working together on projects: cheering our football players, writing newspaper stories, producing plays. ORGANIZATIONS helped students to feel important by creating an eager spirit of cooperation and friendship at Dixie. Connection with campus organizations boosted students into friendly, creative realms.

X-CLUB

We won! We won!

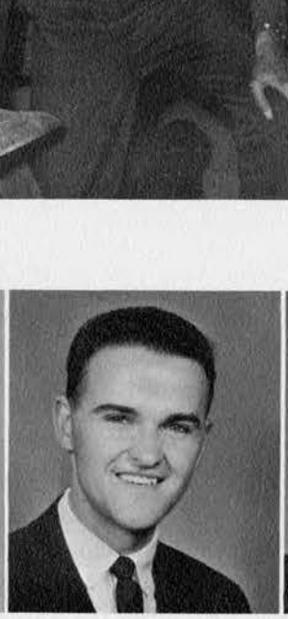

Selected on the basis of their scholastic honor and their invaluable contributions to Dixie, these ten men diligently served their school. Contributions which they made include: ushering, supplying refreshments at ball games, ringing the victory bell, and their annual service project.

COLLEGE WARD

Is anybody going to come?

The Latter-day Saints on our campus enjoyed a year which was rounded out by religion. Under the capable direction of the ward bishopric everyone enjoyed a most rewarding year. Bishop Andrus' optimistic human interest stories, and inspirational thoughts helped the ward members to progress spiritually.

A new experience in leadership was afforded many students through serving in their College Ward. From quilting in Relief Society, to enjoying M.I.A. dances, and also attending a humbling testimony meeting, all ward members grew spiritually while cooperating with their brothers and sisters and serving their God.

Yes, more than expected!

"Drama" being the common concern, DELTA PSI OMEGA consisted of students who had a sincere interest in stage work and wished to further their quest in drama. Attending plays, play readings, book reviews, banquets, and taking out-of-town trips made up a full year's activity and created enthusiasm within the club.

True "stars" whether they were on the football field or the basketball floor, the REBELETTES glittered their way through the 1963-64 year. With snappy pre-precision their dance-marches created new interest through whirling ropes, twirling umbrellas, and puffy pompons. They earned their applause.

Dixie DEBATERS, under the capable direction of Mrs. Hardy, evinced exceptional ability and precision as they argued the pros and cons of Federal Aid to Higher Education. "Buenos Dias" (Hello) was a very common greeting among SPANISH CLUB members and (advisor) Pansy Hardy. While acquainting themselves with language itself, members also had parties and devoured typical Spanish food.

Harmonious noise!

Left to Right: Merrill Webb, Secretary; Diane Schmutz, President; Dr. Ronald Garner, Director.

As one o'clock rolled around each day, students walking by the Fine Arts Building could hear the sound of blending voices from the choral room. This sharp-looking group, donned new, bright red dresses, and learned many songs in preparation for their A CAPPELLA CHOIR concert in mid-February, and subsequent delightful performances.

ACTIVITIES

Pom poms, a case of pop, records, and cake signaled "There's a party tonight; come on!" From the party on the "D" at the beginning of the year, through many dances and other fun-filled occasions, to the "good-byes" at the end of the year, Dixie students were so full of vitality that almost anything turned into an unusual and exciting activity.

Good grief, will we ever get through?

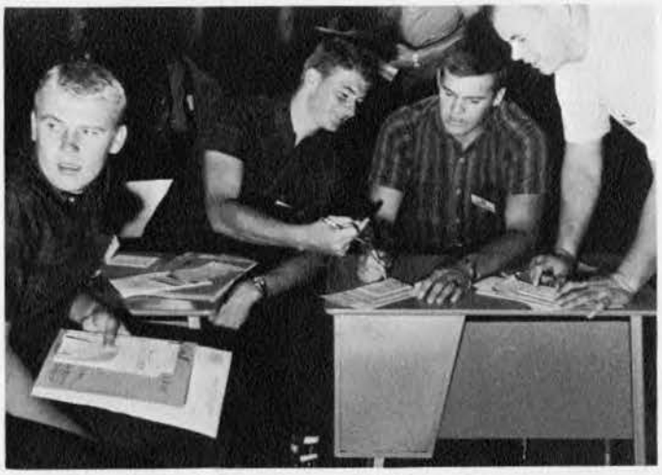

Are you sure, Derrill?

Are we in a rut? Yes!

HOW "D" WEEK

"Yup, easy as that . . ."

HOW "D" WEEK started Dixie's historic school year out with a bang. There were gala parties, yummie food, and dances under the stars glittering in our southland skies. The highlight of the week was the faculty women's annual tea which was held in our own unique Fine Arts Center patio.

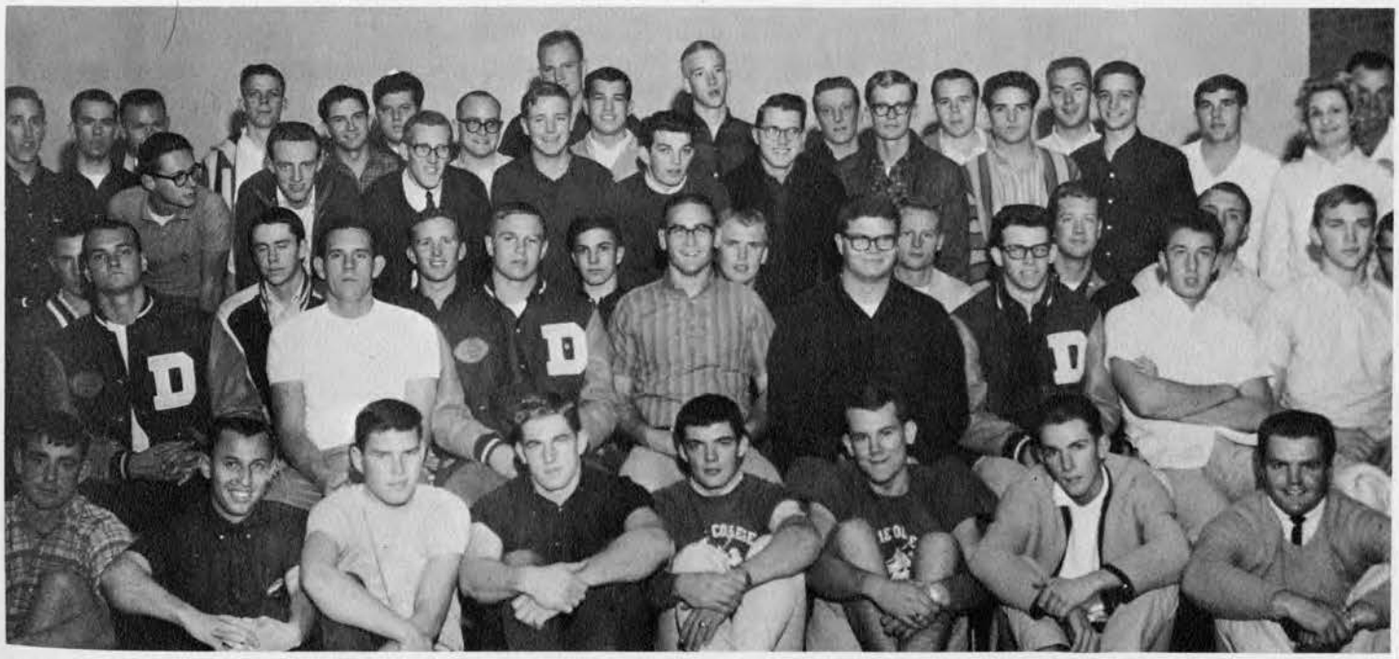

Ladies must be ladies . . .

HOME C

Who's that horse looking at?

"Hurrah, another touchdown!" And so the HOMECOMING football game with Mesa went. The victory bell clanged loudly over the HOMECOMING activities, and boosted the students' spirits to soaring heights.

Which one is the lion?

Way down South!

ME COMING

Mert, is your umbrella still having problems?

Remember the old and the new!

What a perfect day! Ohs! and Ahs! filled the air from the first float in the HOME-COMING parade to the last. Then, the FOUNDER'S DAY assembly was talent filled — Juanita Brooks' inspiring talk, the choir's thrilling songs, the band's stirring tunes. But, the day wasn't over yet; there were still the triumphant football game and the beautiful dance which culminated the perfect day.

A Real Winner!

D-DAY

The enthusiastic spirit of Dixie and the perseverance of the students was exemplified in long hours of work and the original floats of the D-DAY parade. The "powderpuff" football game in the afternoon brought peals of laughter from the crowd who had assembled to watch the fair ladies gambol over the field with the Rebel "Champs" and they very nearly outplayed them. And the crowning glory to the festive occasion was the dance in the evening and the mighty "D" standing high on the hill in its firelit regalia; and thus came the end to a perfect day with the "South Rising Again."

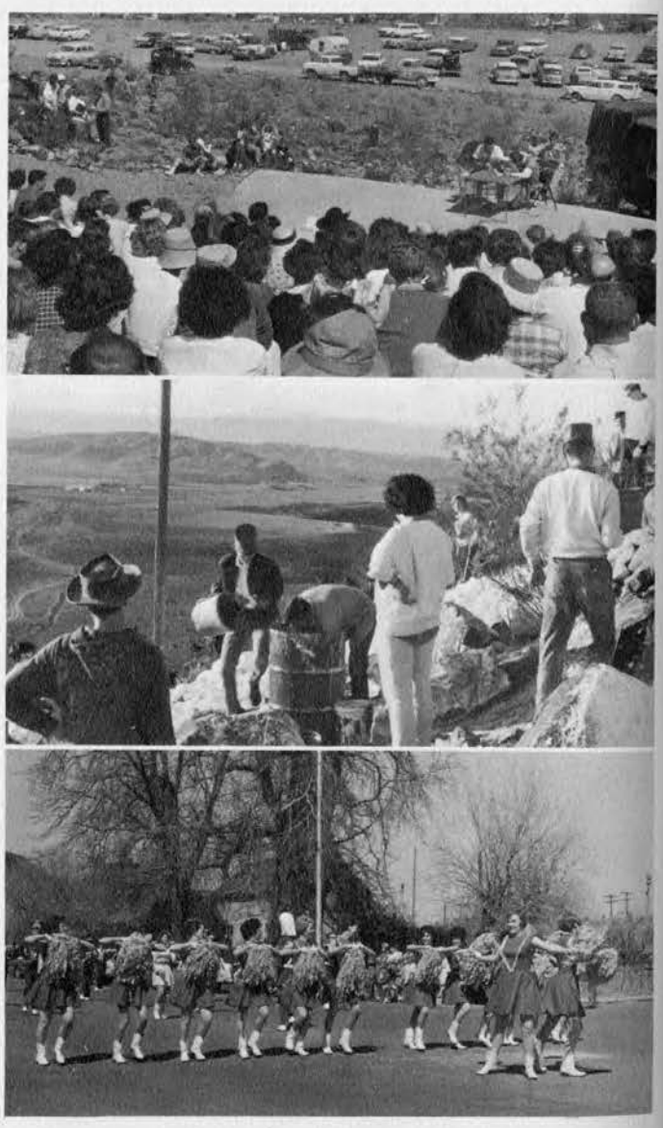

The Bucket Brigade!

Knees up! Eyes Ahead!

Now doesn't she look silly?

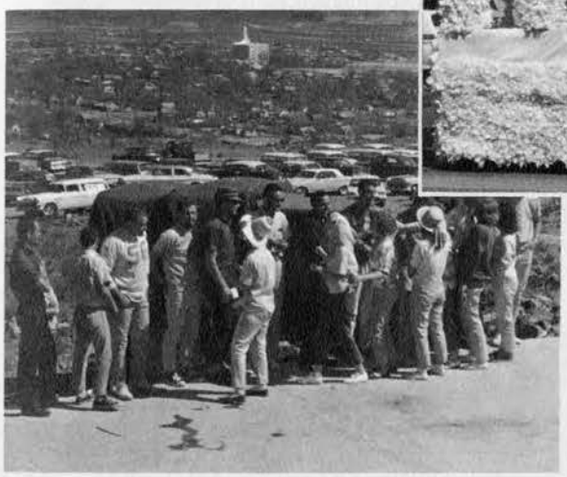

R. M.'s with spirit!
One more bucket for the girl!
One, two, three, four!

Beauties and Beasts!

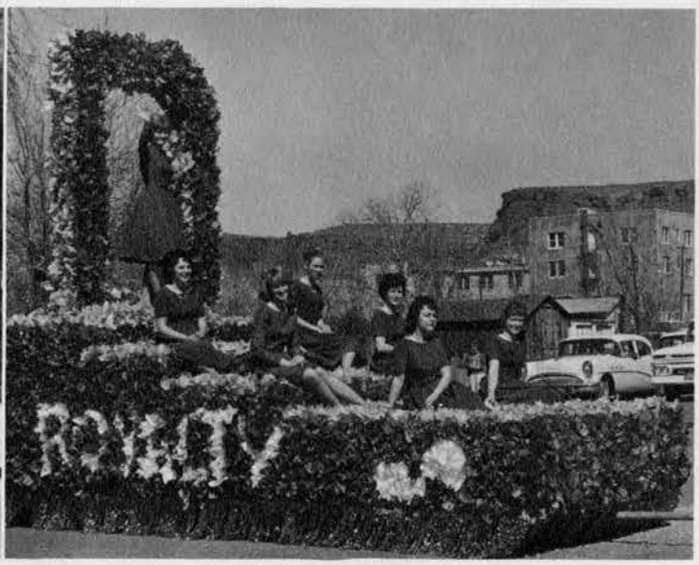

Opposites attract!

Body "Guard"?

Well done, Thou Good and Faithful Servants!

How do you spell that name again?

"Ain't She Sweet," was a phrase used often during WOMEN'S WEEK. Beginning the week with a banquet and following it with dress-up-days, assemblies, flowers, and the opportunity to get a date with her own dream man, the gals on campus realized that this is a "woman's world" after all. They all became the stars in our Dixie Galaxy.

SOCIAL LIFE

Morning Dance Break . . .

Here comes Peter Cotton-tail . . .

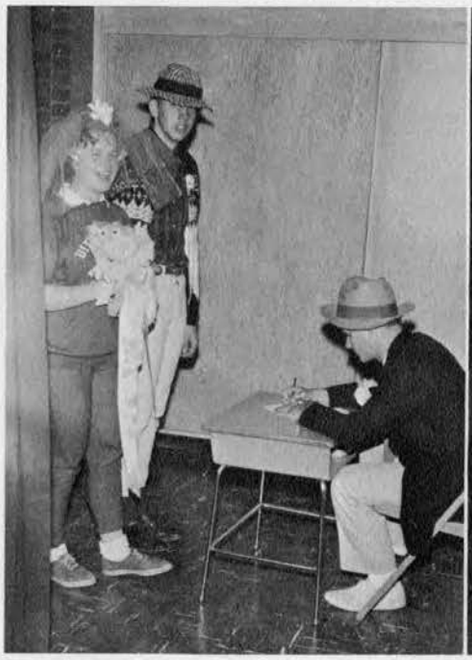

Food and relaxation . . .

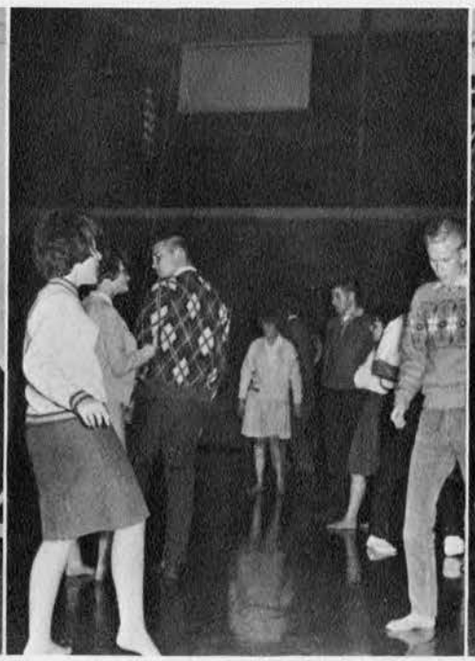

What did you say that dance was called?

Dixie students jitterbugged, fox-trotted, surfed, and waltzed their way through many sock-hops, and some special formal dances during the year. At a party when students weren't dancing, they were playing games, or singing, or talking; but, always Dixie students were creating excitement.

Mr. and Mrs. Marv Mackey!

Watch for the thumbtacks!

Do I see stars?

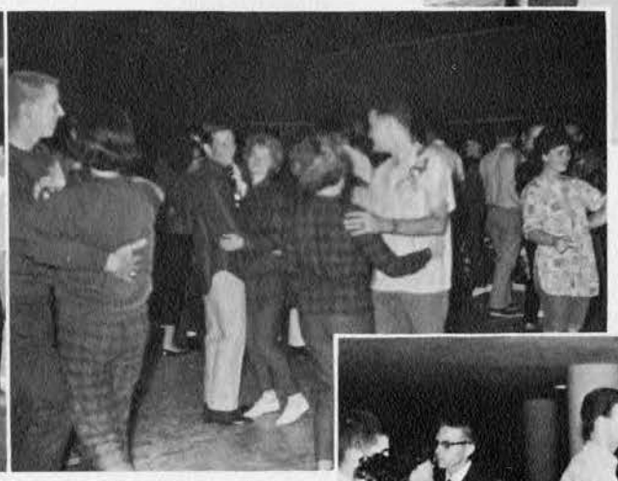

AT DIXIE

Stomp, kick, kick.

Lovely Easter Bonnets!

Grubbies for grubs!

"Have you heard about the party? Let's go, okeh?" These words echoed in Dixie's halls when a party was planned. And when Dixie had a party, it was one to be remembered: the costumes at the Halloween dance, the caroling at the Christmas party, and the "Surfin' Safari."

Wait 'til tomorrow . . .

You think make-up is bad!

Wonder where the yellow went!

Remember your manners!

CAMPUS LIFE

Don't just stand there!

Watch your step!

"Rush, rush! Oh, hurry or we'll never make it to class." So CAMPUS LIFE went from day to day — each one brought new interests and renewed exuberance to make that day tops. "Chit chat" and rollicking conversation added to the cheerful atmosphere of our campus — developing long-remembered friendships and treasured memories.

Tell me about the engagement period!

May the best man win!

WEEKLY ASSEMBLIES

Hey, ya little devil!

"Tighten your seat belts! We're nearing the moon. Green cheese and the 'fountain of youth' are almost ours." The moon as the setting, and the finding of a fountain, proved to be the exact ingredients to build an exciting assembly! Thank you, Freshmen, for your hard work. We salute you for earning the coveted trophy for the most outstanding competitive assembly of the year.

Green Cheese!

Be good "Do-Bees"!

ASSEMBLIES

SOPHOMORES

Dig those muscles!

The line's busy!

Long and tiring hours, new friendships, and cultivated talents — these things will ever remind the Sophomore students of their competitive assembly. Everyone — yes, all mankind — remember that your deeds on earth will go with you when you pass on to greater heights: this was their theme, and it was both thought-provoking and portrayed well.

Just keep climbing Kenny . . .

THE WIZARD OF OZ

I wish I had a can opener!

The story of Dorothy and her exciting adventures with the Lion, Tinwoodsman, Scarecrow, Munchkings, Winkies, and the mythical inhabitants of Oz was portrayed in masterful dance form. This delightful children's fantasy was produced by the Modern Dance Department under the direction of Myrle Dalton. Their talent was outstanding, their interpretations highly entertaining, and the scenery enhanced the fanciful mood which the entertainers cast on the audience.

ELECTIONS

Election time was the occasion when each individual seriously pondered on the characteristics of potential candidates for office. Is he suited for that position and who is the best for the job, were very important questions that were asked. The primary elections helped to narrow this choice and set the stage for the big and final campaign.

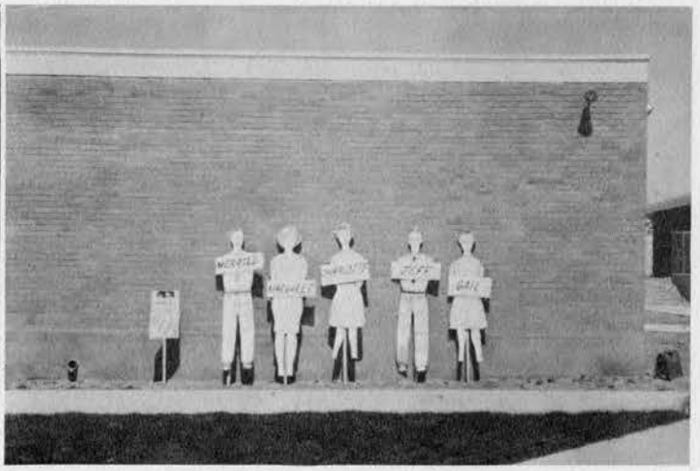

The Marks!

Posters galore!

Don't just stand there!

The VIPS !

Enthusiasm was the key word in the big campaign. Posters, lapel buttons and speeches expounded virtues, and those who participated fought vigorously to have their candidates elected. In the final election we climaxed the campaign by electing the officers who will be at the helm of student affairs at Dixie College next year.

SPORTS

A tennis racket, a catcher's mask, a football, a pair of old shoes — symbols and equipment for sports — reminded us of the spirit of competition and sportsmanship at Dixie. When the word sports was heard, it meant many different things to Dixie students. It meant winning the ICAC championship and being considered for the Rose Bowl; it meant playing a close 60-59 basketball game; and it meant serving a swift tennis ball or sprinting for 50 yards. The excitement and fervor of athletic competition boosted the Dixie Spirit to soaring heights during the 1963-64 school year.

Cheri Bennett

Dressed in snappy red sweaters and gray pants for the gridiron, and dominating the basketball court with stylish red uniforms, our five CHEERLEADERS bounced through football games and bounded through basketball games, sparking tremendous school spirit when they led us in our traditional songs and catchy chants and cheers. Beginning their practices before school commenced last fall, the spirited five — Gail, Sue Ann, Carol, Geri Lynn, and Cheri — perfected resolute steps, and graceful, winning mannerisms. Appearing at all the home games, the "peppy-five" performed as a team.

"Look at that, it's another home run!" "Boy, they're tops!" ROYALTY

Corsages, formal dresses, crowns, orchestra music — and most of all red roses —symbolized the beauty and personalities of our QUEENS. A certain twinkle of her eyes, a dimple, a cheerful smile, or a friendly "Hello" made each one of our regal ladies special to us. These queens reflected Dixie's images of queens — possessors of beauty, poise, skill, and friendliness.

DAISY MAE L'IL ABNER

Those crowns look good enough to eat!

Gail Horlacher and Kenny Knight were selected as DAISY MAE & L'IL ABNER at our Sadie Hawkins Dance. Attired in grubs, and girls taking boys, proved to arouse excitement; and it is one dance that won't be forgotten.

SWEATER KING & QUEEN

Shirley Lamb and Ken Bowler, our SWEATER KING & QUEEN, were selected from the Sophomore Class to reign at one of their dances. Stocking shuffles were a familiar activity at Dixie, but were ones we enjoyed.

A trophy, for me?

KING OF HEARTS

Oh, shucks!

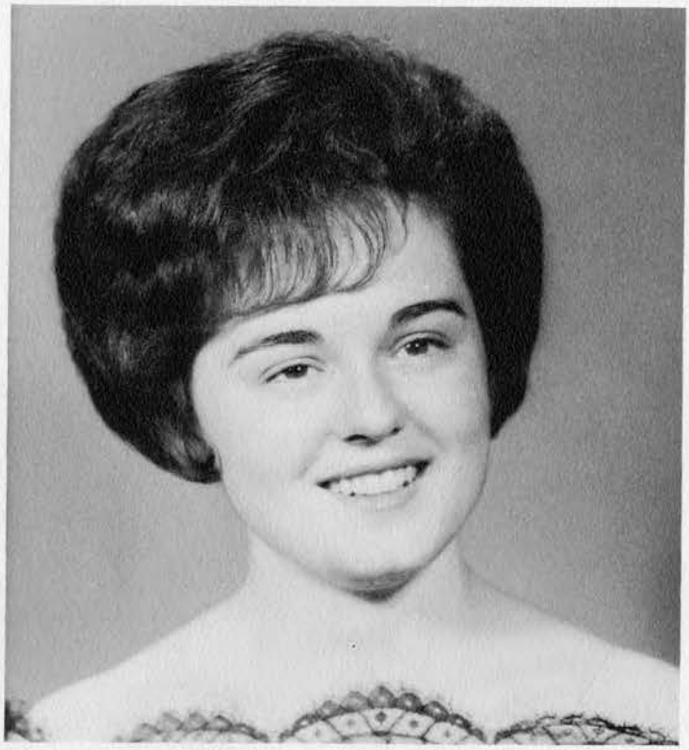

A basketball player, Bob Cuff, was selected as KING OF HEARTS. He reigned at a matinee dance which took the place of our weekly assembly. It surely was a fun way to celebrate Valentine's Day.

HOMAGE TO OUR PRESIDENT

President Arthur F. Bruhn

Unselfish devotion, loyalty, intrepidity, perseverance, dignity, and friendliness are just a few of the attributes we admire in you, PRESIDENT BRUHN. We commend you for your undaunted courage and the battle you waged during Dixie's struggle to become an entity among other great colleges. You had a dream; you had the ambition and courage to shoot your aims high into the great galaxy for educational progress. Because of your capable and persistent endeavors, your dream exploded into a new, modern campus with its friendly, wholesome atmosphere. You formulated the plans for our numerous and stately edifices which are rapidly silhouetting the skyline of great institutions. Those buildings, and all that they signify, will continue to epitomize what you have done to further the cause of learning among America's youth. We, the students, faculty, and alumni pay you homage for what you have done. We are anticipating continued progress and success because you planned and directed us wisely. We are grateful that you shared your dream and your loyal Dixie spirit with us.

Your First Dream Completed!

Second Goal Completed!

Campus expands further!

GRADUATION

Graduates' procession begins.

Graduation exercises marked the close of another year at Dixie College. Along with the diploma came mixed emotions occasioned by reminiscing over the past and formulating plans for the future. Fond memories we will ever cherish and future plans — may they all be rewarding.

Last good-byes!

The long awaited time!

To the Associated Students and Faculty of Dixie College: As the last pages of the yearbook go to press, the staff feels grateful to so many of you and wishes to express its appreciation to you. The staff is indeed thankful for the supervision, direction, and help from our faculty advisor, Mrs. Edna J. Gregerson. Also, we are appreciative for the willing cooperation and suggestions given to us by President Bruhn, Dean Woodbury and the Administrative staff. Especially are we grateful to the members of the faculty who rallied to our support when we needed the "honors" information early. The editor is personally grateful to the staff members for their hours and hours of untiring work. Along with these students the executive officers can not be overlooked; their encouragement motivated the staff to greater effort during times of discouragement. If any errors have been made, they were unintentional. Every effort has been expended by the staff to produce a book you could all enjoy — one that would record an accurate picture of Dixie's year of transition. Thanks to all of you who have not heretofore been mentioned. You, too, played your part in producing this book by permitting the staff to include you in the DIXIE. Your willingness to keep appointments with the photographer expedited the task with which the staff was faced.

Sincerely,

YEARBOOK STAFF 1964
