the dixie presents

This is Dixie College. Through these pages run your memories: your hopes, your joys, your laughter, your fears — and your tears. Here in picture and word is your story. From the first hectic days of registration to the Christmas Drive, from the brisk winter days to the graduation rites in the spring. Remember with us — at least insofar as these pages can communicate to you through their symbol — all of your experiences this past year at Dixie . . . the "Hi, Dixie College," of our student president . . . the tenseness of the room during exams . . . socializing on the love benches in front of the Administration Building . . . the charge of the football team "Bigger and better," the goal set by the executive council for 1959-60, were realized through the leadership of this untiring group. Led by student prexy Brent Crosby, who led by doing, the council this year initiated such new innovations as the Dixie College Leadership Conference, Sorghum Lappers party, Tie-Day, two-day Homecoming celebration, and the formation of an Elections Committee and Publicity Committee. The council was characterized by personal responsibility, long hours of work, and a display of the true Spirit of Dixie.

A.M.S. presents stiff competition to other marching groups in Homecoming parade.

In keeping with the 1959-60 theme, "Bigger and Better," the Associated Men Students Council gained state-wide recognition for their AMS program on the Dixie campus. They co-sponsored the new Christmas Drive and AMS-AWS banquet with their sister organization, and created two new traditions: the Dixie Victory Bell, and the Awards Night program. Other activities included sponsoring the intra-mural program, Boy's Day, and participating in the Homecoming and "D" Day parade.

associated women students

The Associated Women Students Council reached new heights this year in the women's program. Representing all coeds on campus, the council sponsored women's week, which included the traditional fashion show, tea, assembly, and dance. In conjunction with the AMS, the council brought two new activities to campus: the Christmas Drive and the AMS - AWS banquet. The council participated in the AWS convention held at the BYU and in Homecoming activities.

Heels, hose, and flowers worn by A.W.S. contribute to make Ti-Day a success.

The quality of assemblies rose to new heights under the direction of the First Vice President, Marilyn Fawson, and her able committee. All assemblies were made competitive this year by the committee which gave students added incentive in their productions. Long hours were devoted in assisting the students in preparing their lighting, costumes, and other various aspects of assembly production.

Charged with the responsibility of student pep, dances, visiting guests, and furthering the Spirit of Dixie, the Sociability Committee filled the school year with a variety of activities. Under the direction of the Second Vice President, the committee met once a week in planning sessions. The committee sponsored such events as the Traffic Dance, the Halloween Dance, put on an assembly, greeted visiting athletic teams, conducted campus tours, and mat dances.

The Publicity Committee, newly organized this year, helped to put Dixie College events in the spotlight. Under the direction of chairman LuAnn Millett, all school functions were properly advertised and popularly attended.

A new committee on campus this year, the Elections Committee handled all student elections. Headed by Richard Frei, the committee was ready to conduct a student election whenever called for. All balloting and poll staffing were under the direction of the committee.

Debbie Holland, Rebel Mascot for '59, drew spectators' smiles as she helped the cheer-leaders forward the Dixie Spirit.

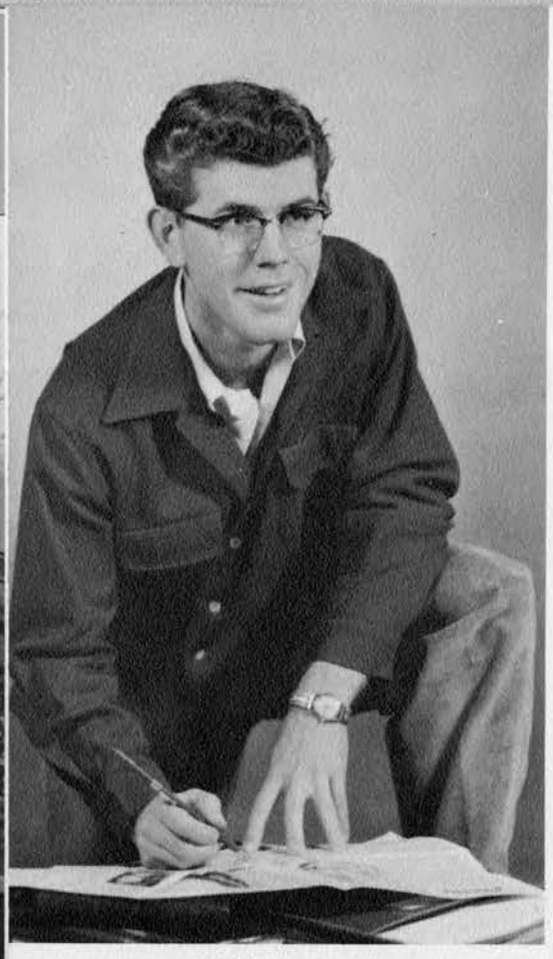

student council

Early mornings found representatives from all campus organizations gathered for weekly student council sessions. A combination of executive, legislative, and judicial government, this body guided Dixie's extra-curricular activities during 1959-60.

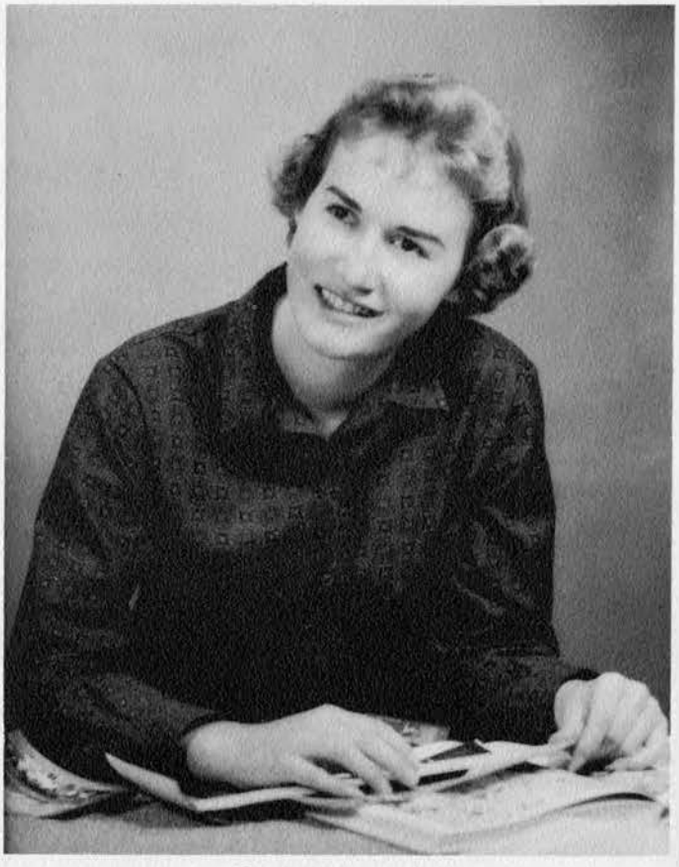

Presided over by student prexy Brent Crosby, the council aired campus policy, petitioned the faculty for longer library hours, and combined efforts to make Dixie a place where all students belong.

fine arts series

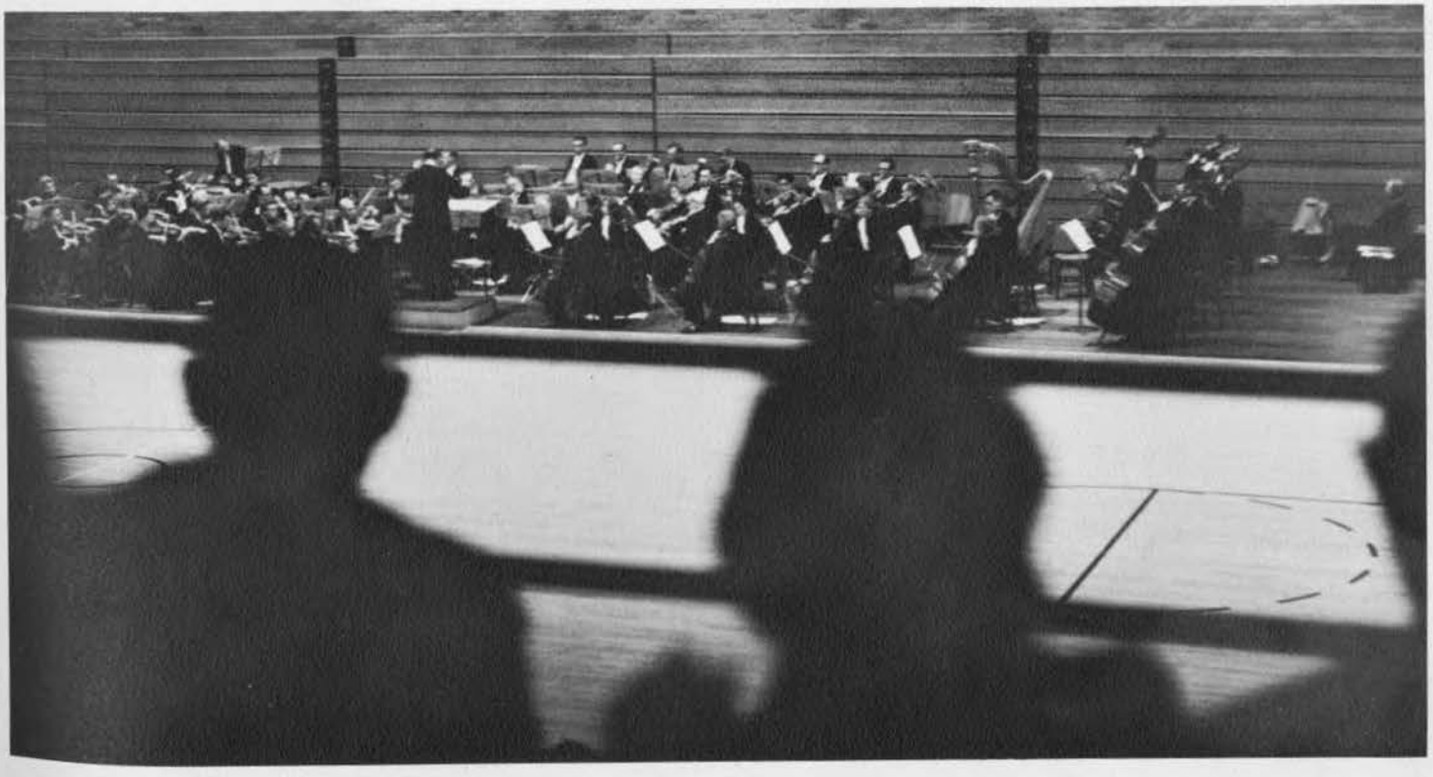

Sigurd Rascher, born in Germany, is the greatest virtuoso the saxophone has ever known. He has played in every musical center of America and Europe and has toured Australia and India. He has been the first saxophone soloist to play with such hallowed institutions as the Boston Symphony, the New York Philharmonic, and the Royal Philharmonic of London. Much of his time is spent in traveling all over the United States and Canada to play for school bands and to demonstrate the possibilities of the saxophone to band masters.

The Community-School Fine Arts activity brought to the people in the St. George area one of the major symphony orchestras in the United States. Maurice Abravanel, conductor, came originally from Greece and has been with the Utah Symphony Orchestra since 1947. He received his training in Europe and Paris.

the matchmaker

With "just the right amount of adventure and the right amount of sitting quietly at home," the cast of "The Matchmaker," by Thornton Wilder, captivated the audience. The play was a riot from start to finish. The heros, Cornelius Hackle and Barnaby Tucker, decide to leave their dull lives in Yonkers and have a fling in New York. Their authoritarian boss, Horace Vandergelder, discovers them and the result is riotous.

Clifford Odets' cynical play, "The Country Girl" was presented by Dixie College in the middle of November. The play, which centers around an alcoholic actor who must overcome his weakness to win back the love of his wife, is a powerful documentary of an alcoholic's plight.

registration

Some male students can't decide whether to register for "economics or home economics."

These students can hardly wait to start school.

I loaded 16 tons and what did I get? Sixteen books and deeper in debt.

Registration at Dixie brought students from many of the Western states and also from the country of Iran. The total students registered reached new heights for Dixie College. After a day of signing for classes, buying books and equipment, students were ready to begin a new quarter's work.

how "D" week

A bright fire, long poles, hot dogs, and cheery faces set the stage for the How "D" Party on the hill.

"How 'D' and what's your name" was the talk of the day around Dixie.

Students keep the week rolling with pop corn and laughter.

A week filled with activities for the students was planned by the student body officers in order to get everyone acquainted with Dixie. The week-day events consisted of: a party held under the "D" on the hill, pinning how "D" cards, on each student with his identification, serving free root-beer during noon hours, the song fest held in the recreation area, recreation night with volleyball and other group games, and to top the week off, a venison supper held down at the park.

homecoming and founders' day

Students worked overtime this year to complete the most all-inclusive Homecoming ever staged at Dixie. Douglas Labrum was selected General Chairman of the two-day activities. Beginning with the election of Ethel Lynn Sorenson as Homecoming queen, the celebration consisted of the following activities; the Dixie High versus Judge Memorial football game; a homecoming program, "Dixie Through the Years"; the largest Homecoming Parade ever sponsored with the Sophomore and Freshmen classes tieing for first place on their float entries; Dr. Elden Beck as Guest Speaker at the Homecoming Assembly; the Dixie College versus Carbon College football game; and the Southern Jubilee Dance.

harvest ball

"Golden Harvest" was the theme chosen by the FHA and FFA for their annual Harvest Ball, with Kathryn Gardner and Ralph Staheli heading the committee for the event. Ilona Atkin was chosen Harvest Queen and Gordon Hutchings as Harvest King. The selection was made by a "penny a vote method" to raise funds for the two organizations.

Highlight of the dance was the crowning of the king and queen.

Scarecrows perform in the Harvest

The Halloween Dance is another of the activities that the Sociability Committee sponsors under the direction of Darlene Heaton. The dance, which is one of the most fun and biggest dances of the year, was jam-packed with all sorts of costumes. Prizes were awarded to a trio of cats, a caterpillar, and a clown.

All types of wolves turned out for the Harvest Ball.

boys' day

The traditional Boys' Day is a welcome event on the Dixie campus. A day packed full of fun beginning with an early morning breakfast through the tug o' war in the afternoon, and continuing on to the dance in the evening. The girls were spotlighted during the assembly by various trophies presented by the AMS Council. Larry Harmon, AMS President, and his council carried out each activity to a hilarious finish.

D-Day saw the Dixie campus a kaleidoscope of color, noise, and fun to the theme of "A Day in the Desert." Jeff Holland, general chairman, and his committee, Jimmy Prince, Otto Jones, Gary Adair, Jerome Gourley, Larry Harmon, Howard Brinton, and Ralph McArthur, planned a full schedule of events for the students and Dixie College Alumni. Whitewashing the "D" by the Juniors and Sophomores, campus clean-up by the Seniors and Freshmen, parade, lunch on the Black Hill, program and skits under the "D," recreational activities at the city park, Alumni banquet, torch lighting the "D," and the D-Day Dance spotlighted the day. Once again the Senior class walked off with the participation trophy; their float entry, White Silver Sands, also received first place in the parade competition. Winners of the anticipated beard-growing contest were Dick Whitehead, peach fuzz; George Thomas, thickest and heaviest; Don Campbell, best goatee; Gary Adair, longest; Roger Murry, best sideburns; and Otto Jones for the most original. Regal Darlene Heaton, selected as D-Queen by popular vote of the student body, with Misses Marilyn Fawson, Marilynn Esplin, Kathleen Hardy, Judy Hanson, Priscilla Bleak, and Ada Jane Truman attending her, reigned over the festival activities.

college football

With a schedule that included four of the nation's top 20 juco aggregations, the Rebel football machine finished second in the ICAC race for the second year in a row. The Rebs downed conference foes with comparable ease, but found outings against intersectional a little rough. They were conquered by the nation's No. 1 team, Phoenix College, on Halloween night in the Sun Bowl, 14-34; dropped the season opener to Mesa College, ranked No. 4 nationally, 0-14, but then bounced back to take the 18th ranked team, Snow college, 14-13, in a conference tilt at Ephriam. Picked to finish sixth in conference play by sportswriters at the beginning of the season, the Rebels ran up a 33-10 conquest over arch-rival CSU to serve notice to the ICAC by the upset they were in the conference race. A league loss to Weber, eventual conference champs and No. 12 team in the nation, left the Rebels short of the crown. Paced by all-American Richard Hafen, the Rebs caught the fancy of all juco gridiron fans with their outstanding backfield. Had the line been stronger, Dixie may have had her second conference selections, including Richard and Arlyn Hafen in the backfield, George Staheli at center, and Howard Brinton at end.

SARKIS ARSLANIAN
All-American Football Coach

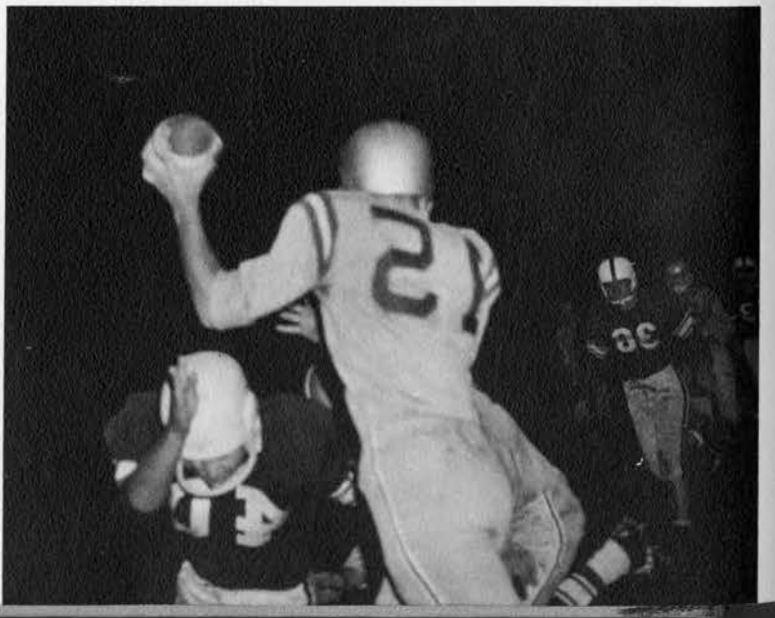

In a year filled with athletic honors, the naming of Sarkis Arslanian to the coaching staff of the West squad in the annual East - West juco shrine game brought signal honors to Dixie College. The first Dixie coach to ever be so honored, Arslanian is known as a competitor. His teams have ranked the highest in Dixie football history, including one conference title, two seconds, a third, and fourth in five seasons at the Rebel helm. Under him have come all three of Dixie's All-Americans in football.

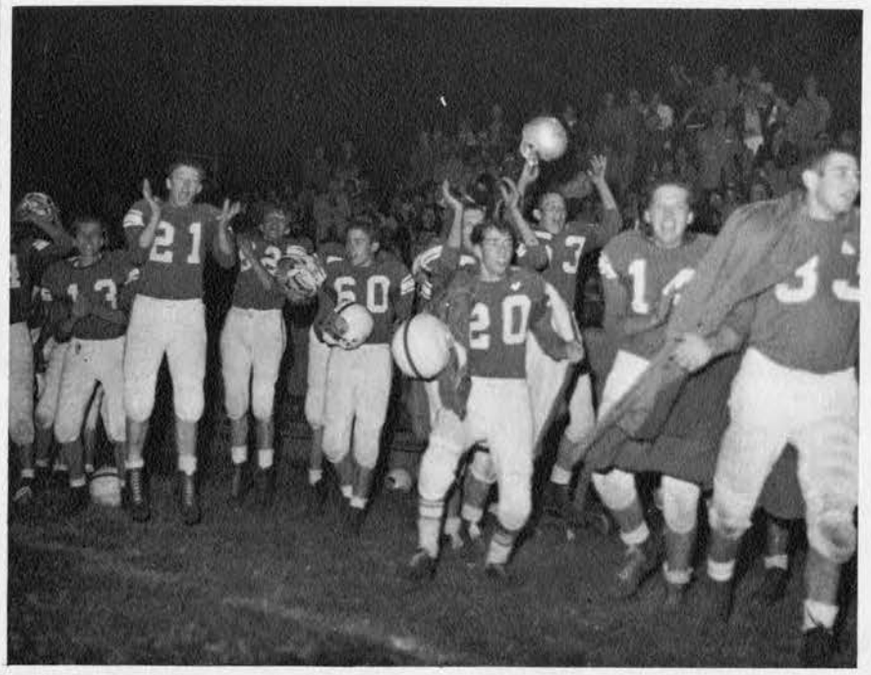

RICHARD LEE HAFEN
All-American

The field general of the Big Rebel Gray, Richard Hafen, gained all-American honors for his outstanding play against the top grid teams of the nation. The third Dixie Rebel footballer to gain this coveted title, Richard's sixty minutes of hard play each drew coaches and players praises from throughout the southwest. His appearance in the juco East-West game showed national audience what Dixie followers had long been saying, "Our quarterback is tops."

high school football

As in 1950, Coach Walter Brooks and the Dixie Flyers found themselves facing the Bulldogs of Judge Memorial in the state semi-finals in football. And, as in 1959, the Flyers went down to defeat. But the story of the Flyers' path to the Sun Bowl on that sunny November afternoon is the story of championship football. The Flyers weren't supposed to win the league, but they did. Starting off the season with a convincing victory over Parowan, 35-13, and finishing the season with a convincing win over Hurricane, 42-7, the Flyers raced through the league on the elements of determination and desire. Highlight of the year was a 13-0 victory over rival Cedar City, the league favorites. With the campaign, the wearers of the blue and white added another Region 10 championship trophy to the showcase, another appearance in the state playoffs record books, and another chapter of championship football in the Dixie history.

The story of Rebel basketball, 1960, is the story of basketball in the Dixie tradition. Led by all-American Arlyn Hafen, the Rebs took on the nation's top cage teams including Phoenix, who went to the national semi-finals; Weber, the 1959 national champs; and regional powerhouses Nevada Southern and Eastern Arizona. To the Rebels the big nights were the CSU series. .Here the Rebs dropped the first encounter to give the Broncos their first glimpse of the "Battle Axe" — but only for 24 hours. The next night Dixie took a thrilling 71-70 win in Cedar City. The Broncos took the third meeting, but 24 hours later the Big Gray had returned the "Axe" to the southland with a resounding 73-54 win in the Dixie fieldhouse. The split cost the Rebels a bid to the regional NJCAA finals in Ogden, even though the 19-point spread in the last game was the biggest margin of win for either team. Sporting new "Rebel Gray" uniforms, the Coach Ray Englestead crew relied on the "Big Six" of Clarence Beal, Kenneth Wilkes, Max Jones, Jerrold Wilson, and Arlyn and Richard Hafen, to give the Rebels a third place finish in conference play.

Selected by coaches and shrine officials to play in the North-South junior college all-star basketball series, the naming of Arlyn Hafen to this coveted team all-American selection brought additional honors to Dixie athletics in the 1959-60 school year.

Famous for his long shot artistry, Hafen was equally adept at drive-ins, jump shots, and rolloff hooks. A four sport letterman, he was given the AMS Athlete of the Year award at Dixie College.

The Dixie High cagers were a hot and cold team. At times they looked as if no team in the state could beat them, and at other times they just couldn't click. The Flyers started off the season fast with wins over top intersectional opponents. They led the league for the first half of the season, but then dropped two to division champions, Enterprise, and two to rival Cedar City. The Flyers' record carried them into the Regional tourney at Parowan, where they were defeated the first night by the Rams, 49-44, in a thrilling game in which the Flyers displayed all the Dixie hustle and desire that has marked the Flyer teams of the past.

Goal of the Rebel Baseballers was to upset the Carbon Eagles from the ICAC baseball throne. Strong men for the Rebel cause were veterans Jerrold Wilson and Howard Brinton. Many newcomers dotted the diamond, giving Dixie faithful new hopes in the diamond sport.

As the yearbook went to press, hopes for a conference title in track were dim with Weber College picked by forecasters to grab the crown. But standout stars on the squad had already made their mark. They included Kenneth Wilkes, who was yet to be beat in the hurdles in college competition in his two years at Dixie; Joe Dennison, destined to write new records in the discus; Dennis Anderson, one of the state's top sprinters; and Kendall Hinton, top Rebel high jumper. Marked by their dark blue warm-ups and silver striped shirts, the Rebels in 1959 placed high in conference competition, and were expected to do the same in 1960.

Meets were scheduled with Hurricane and Cedar in addition to the Dixie Invitational, BYU Invitational, USHAA Relays, Region 10 meet, and state finals. Emphasis was on a strong mile relay team to be supplemented by top performances by Doug Miles in the mile run, Leon Fish in the 40 and javelin, Ralph Atkin in the dashes, Robert Everett in the broad jump and hurdles, Jerry Neilson and Wes Stucki in the weights, Steve Larkin and Brent Stucki in the middle distance races, and Richard Whitehead in the all-around events.

VANCE ROWLEY
Mid-Winter Tennis Champion

A small but strong tennis squad carried Dixie hopes into the LCAC tennis campaign. With veteran coach, B. Glen Smith, mapping the strategy, Rebel rackets were seen at the BYU Invitational, conference matches, and numerous duel meets. Squad members were John Jennings, Vance Rowley, Les Brenkman, and Robert Miles.

Fifteen racket swingers took to the courts this spring for the Dixie High School. Early morning practice sessions at the city park, and intra-squad matches were the orders of the schedule that eventually led to Provo and Salt Lake City for state playoff matches. Leading the team was "Red" Foremaster, one of the state's top prep netters.

MERRILL WEBB
President

Under the leadership of prexy Merrill Webb, the Seniors capped their last year in high school with a variety of activities. The Seniors were represented by 11 girls in the Jetettes, high school precision marching unit, and four fellows on various all-state selections during the year. Class presented "Khrushchev's Follies" as their competitive assembly, and topped all other classes in the Christmas Drive with well above 100 per cent donation to the Yuletide program to have their "light" turned on first on the school's Christmas tree.

The campus "greenies" took fast to the way of life at Dixie. They staged their Junior Prom in December, crowning Connie Sturzenegger Prom Queen. Members pledged loyalties to the AWS Council, Assembly Committee, Sociability Committee, Delta Psi Omega, and FHA. Others carried the banner of the newspaper staff, yearbook, and marching band, and picked up the metal plate of the "Siphons." Classmates and faculty tabbed prexy Clark Christian, "Outstanding Student" of the class, while the thinclads walked off with interclass track meet honors.

In tribute to LELAND HAFEN, longtime dean of Utah prep coaches, The Dixie pauses in memorial. Coach Hafen's list of friends and admirers stretches the width and breadth of Utah and into every clime of the land. His smile has been the lift to many, his spoken word the inspiration. On the fields of friendly competition he was known as a man of honor. His record stands for itself. Among many he was known as "Coach," to others "Coach Lee," and to others "Coach Hafen." But to all he was "Mr. Dixie Athletics" for nearly three decades. His death was a loss to all, but his memory will be a guidepost to all who walk down the halls of Dixie College.

Folks come from all over to save at the

BANK OF ST. GEORGE

If she's a perfect girl . . .
then get her a PERFECT Diamond.
Get a Keepsake
Symbol of love everlasting
A Diamond is forever
Easy terms . . . or
You can win it by counting the screws.
